Ben called you earlier and now understands the basics of Web Connect. He's now ready to download transactions. He simply logs into Online Banking and accesses the details screen for his checking account.

The screenshot shows an online banking interface for 'Account History'. At the top, it displays 'ABS Account *6216- *0026' with a dropdown arrow, and the current balance is '-$361.23'. Below this, 'Account Details' is also shown with a dropdown arrow, and the available balance is '-$361.23'. There are three buttons: 'Transfer', 'Export', and 'Print'. A search filter is set to 'Last 30 days' with a dropdown arrow and a right-pointing chevron. To the right, there is a search box labeled 'Narrow by items containing:' with the text 'e.g. AT&T, check, 5.00'. Below these elements is a table with columns for 'Amount' and 'Balance'. The table shows two transactions: one for $1.99 on 08/07/2018 and another for $11.00 on 08/07/2018, both labeled as 'et Transfer'. A cartoon character of an older man with glasses is sitting at a desk with a computer monitor and keyboard, positioned in front of the screenshot.

File Download Prompt

Upon clicking Export, Ben may see this File Download prompt; this prompt is controlled by the local machine folder options.

If this prompt is ON, Ben may open or save the file. Open launches the PFM. Save allows Ben to save the file and import it later into his Quicken. If this prompt is OFF, then Quicken or QuickBooks automatically launches.

Enable Download Prompt

To activate/deactivate this prompt:

1. Go to the Windows Control Panel > Folder Options > File Types.
2. Highlight QFX or QBO extension.
3. Click Advanced.
4. Check the "Confirm Open After Download" box to enable the prompt, or uncheck to disable.

If Ben ever has a technical issue, it's helpful to provide the QFX file for troubleshooting. Ben would need the prompt in order to save the file.

Why would I need to enable this prompt?

Once the browser and computer settings allow the download to happen, Quicken or QuickBooks opens. The steps within the PFM are covered in the next modules.
